

Press Release: June 2006

Unrestricted View present
The Eggman

Preacher Jeremiah Macyntire 111 has arrived. He comes to these shores from his home town of Egmont, Key West, Florida, where he has saved souls, salvaged sinners and touched many. Now, for the first time, he brings his extraordinary gift to the UK and for 55 minutes meets some serious British sinners in need of saving.

From stuttering Sheila, the Tourettes suffering fly hater, to Howard, the master of one way conversation and the neighbour we all want to avoid. From eco- warrior Gloria and her simple, not so innocent ways, to Tel, always up for a pie and a fight and finally Clive, the mummy's boy from hell.

This one man comedy show is the creation of Mark Lyminister and Alan Freestone and explores evangelism with these extreme yet all too familiar characters who unburden their lives in the hope of salvation.

Unrestricted View are the resident company at the Hen & Chickens Theatre and Lowdown at The Albany in London. Established in 1997 as a new writing initiative they are the UK producer of Glyn Maxwell's plays, have produced five new writing festivals, and countless Comedy Shows.

Cast

Jeremiah MacIntyre III Mark Lyminister
Directed by Alan Freestone.

Venue: Smirnoff Baby Belly 3, Niddry Street, Cowgate

Time: 15.45 (16.40)

Dates: 3rd August – 27th August 2006 (not 16th)

Prices: £7.50/£6.50 (week) £8.50/£7.50 (Weekends)
£4 (Previews)

Tickets 0870 745 3083 or www.underbelly.co.uk

Press contact: Felicity Wren 07966 132551

For press tickets contact Underbelly Press Office on 0870 745 3078 or email press@underbelly.co.uk

Unrestricted View, Hen & Chickens Theatre,
109 St Pauls Road, Islington N1 2NA